Tutor	Prof. Matteo Giovanni DELLA PORTA
Scientific Area	06 – Medical Sciences
Gross amount of the fellowship	30.000,00 Euro
Duration of the fellowship	24
Objectives of the research	MYNERVA (acronym of MYeloid NEoplasms Research Venture AIRC) is a research program focused on myeloid neoplasms. Myeloid neoplasms are hematopoietic stem cell tumors that typically undergo progressive evolution over time towards more clinically aggressive forms, with compromised bone marrow function. This process is conditioned by many variables, the main ones being the genetic heterogeneity of the stem cell, clonal selection, the relationship between tumor cells and the bone marrow micro-environment or the organs in which the tumor cells spread. The MYNERVA project aims to increase understanding of the mechanisms responsible for the clonal progression of myeloid malignancies from chronic disease to accelerated or acute forms, and the genetic and environmental mechanisms that underpin the systemic spread of cancer cells.
Activities to be carried out	The successful candidate will be responsible for preparing samples for Next Generation Sequencing (NGS) experiments, including extraction, quantification, and quality assessment of nucleic acids from bone marrow or peripheral blood. He/She will also be responsible for
